ASSOCIATE EDITOR

PRESTONSBURG — An arrest was made last week in the death of a Johnson County woman in Knott County, while authorities are investigating a murder in Floyd County.

Gary W. Ward, 37, of Meally in Johnson County, was arrested at approximately 7:16 p.m. Thursday after the Knott County Grand Jury issued an indictment the same day.

Ward was arrested at his residence without incident and was indicted with one count of murder, tampering with physical evidence and abuse of a corpse in the death of Christina Barnett of Sitka, whose body was found on Owens Branch in Knott County.

According to a press release, a Kentucky State Police detective presented evidence to the Knott County Grand Jury Oct. 10 stemming from the homicide investigation into the death of Barnett, whose body was discovered Sept. 25.

Initially, the body was sent to the Kentucky State Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy and positive identification. Preliminary results from the autopsy positively identified the body as that of Barnett.

Barnett was reported missing to KSP, by family members Sept. 19, and a search party located the body

LONDON — A nine-count indictment was issued last Wednesday against four people, including the former mayor of Martin, for allegedly engaging in a scheme to defraud the Social Security Administration and misapplying federal funds.

A Nov. 5 court appearance has been set for former Mayor Ruth Thomasine Robinson, 69; her daughter, Rita Christine Whicker, 42, who formerly directed the Martin Community Center; Ginger Michelle Halbert, 42, a volunteer city employee who worked closely with Robinson; and Ethel Lee Clouse, 68, the city bookkeeper. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the SSA, theft of Social Security disability benefits and aggravated identity theft.

Halbert, Whicker and Robinson were also charged with misappropriating money from a federal program.

Halbert is additionally charged with failure to report her employment earnings to the SSA.

According to the indictment, from 2006 until January 2013, Halbert, who purportedly worked on a volunteer basis, was secretly paid with federal funds that were primarily intended for the Martin Community Center (MCC) and the Housing

Paul touts Economic Freedom Zones during trip to region

LOUISA — U.S. Sen. Rand Paul was the guest speaker at the Louisa Rotary Club meeting Thursday before going to Johnson County, where he participated in a coffee stop meet-and-greet event at Frank's Fountain and Grill in Paintsville.

The Republican senator also had a meet-and-greet event in Salyersville at the Dairy Queen.

Paul talked about his bill that would cut the deficit by $500 billion, and talked about Economic Freedom Zones for areas that are distressed like Louisa, where the Kentucky Power Company's Big Sandy Plant is going to close in 2015.

Paul explained that a 10-year stimulus that cuts taxes in the Economic Freedom Zones would allow the distressed areas to keep more of their money in the community without having to send it to Washington.

"It could mean $5 million for Louisa, but to do it, you also have to make cuts," Paul said. "Things that are well intentioned sometimes end up being translated into other stuff. You can't get a permit to mine coal because every crack and every crevice is considered a stream."

Paul said President Barack Obama said during the government shutdown that the first thing to shut FRANKFORT - A Lawrence County man charged in connection with child pornography was sentenced Friday.

Officers with the Lawrence County Sheriff's Office arrested Meade last year following his indictment by the Lawrence County Grand Jury Dec. 14, 2012. He was charged with one count of distribution of child pornography and four counts of possession of child pornography to which he entered an Alford plea July 12. Defendants enter an Alford plea when they do not admit guilty but acknowledge there is enough evidence to convict them.

According to the indictment, on Feb. 6, 2009, Meade distributed matter portraying a sexual perfor-

MURDERS: Johnson man charged in Knott case

Sept. 25, at which time detectives initiated a death investigation.

Once the preliminary autopsy report and identification of the victim were confirmed, the death investigation transitioned to a homicide.

Barnett's body was originally believed to have been burned, but Knott County Coroner William Blair said the autopsy showed Barnett's body had not been burned as previously reported, but was instead "found in an advanced stage of decomposition."

Barnett's mother, Donna Hale, said after her daughter's body had been found that she and her family are very close and that she immediately became concerned for her daughter when her cell phone and Facebook account went silent.

"She was found in Knott County, on Owens Branch. We are a close family and she doesn't go without calling or getting on Facebook, so when everything went silent and she didn't show up the next day, we called the Kentucky State Police," Hale said. "She was with her boyfriend when she left and yes, she did meet him on the Internet, but they had been seeing each other for months. It wasn't like she just met him and took off with him."

Barnett's sister, Michelle Hale, said Monday that she feels triumphant that the man who killed her sister is in jail and that justice is being served.

"My sister brought out the best in me. I want her to be remembered. There are so many people who went to church with him and they don't believe it, but I know we got the right guy. I want her memory to live on," Hale said.

"In the beginning, when she first met him on the Internet, he had a fake identity on there and told her he was Matt Johnson from Pikeville. He told her the truth about where he worked but he told her not to call him there or he would get into trouble, so she didn't call. When they went out, he always took her to a friend's house and I don't know who that was, the only thing I know is that they had a pool. When she found out he lied to her about who he was and she found out who he really was, she wouldn't talk to him for a while. He told her he was getting a divorce and that his wife was in rehab and said please don't hurt my kids. He is married and he does have children. My sister actually went to school with her for a while. He told her all the right things to make her believe him."

Hale said she spoke to him and her sister the day before she was reported missing.

"My sister told me that she would be back in six hours, because it would take them that long to go to London to show a vehicle. He . . . was in a company vehicle that he said he was going to show to someone in London and that they would be back afterward, and that is why we started our search in London. He said he left her at a gas station in Hazard and I found that gas station and there was a person there who told me they saw her get back into the truck and leave with him. So the next day, we searched down the road from the gas station. I know my sister was guiding me and was with me to help me find her because we saw a spot that was grassy and I said I thought it would be a good place to look. About 30 minutes later, I found her. It was meant for me to find her, and I know it. What are the odds that every day we would search until 6 p.m. or 7 p.m. and not find her and that day, it was on our first stop? If it was reversed, she would have done the same for me. I couldn't give up. I had to find her. After I found her, I called the police and I stayed with her until they came and took her away. I can't tell you how upset I was. I can tell you that KSP officers Billy Pollard and Ronnie Little are our heroes. They are working the case. I just want justice for my sister."

Ward was lodged in the Kentucky River Regional Jail and is scheduled for arraignment Nov. 14 in Knott Circuit Court.

Meanwhile, Kentucky State Police at Post 9 in Pikeville are investigating the shooting death of a Floyd County man whose body was found at his residence early last week.

KSP Post 9 troopers and detectives responded to a complaint in Prestonsburg last Tuesday, Oct. 22. Upon their arrival, they found a deceased victim inside the residence.

The victim was identified as Timothy Austin, 52, of Prestonsburg, who is also a former resident of Johnson County.

The homicide is under investigation by KSP Det. Chris Phillips. Anyone with information regarding the incident is urged to contact the Kentucky State Police at Post 9 in Pikeville at (606) 433-7711 or 1-800-222-5555.

ty Mason Keefer said in the report that he observed the vehicle traveling south on U.S. 23 at a high rate of speed, and he clocked the vehicle with the radar at 74 miles per hour in a 55 miles per hour zone.

Keefer also said in the report that nobody else was in the vehicle with Price at the time of the arrest and that upon contact with her, her eyes were glassy and he could smell the odor of alcohol. He also said in the report that Price was unsteady on her feet and she apparently failed the field sobriety test, but blood results are pending.

Lawrence County Sheriff Garrett Roberts said that Price was taken into custody and transported to the Big Sandy Regional Detention Center in Johnson County and that her vehicle had been towed from the scene.

INDICTED: Former mayor, others charged

Authority of Martin (HAM). To conceal the scheme, the defendants allegedly arranged for the checks to be made payable to Halbert's son, Jeremy Pack, the indictment says.

The indictment alleges that during the period of Jan. 1, 2008, through Jan. 1, 2009; Jan. 1, 2009, through Jan. 1, 2010; Jan. 1, 2010, through Jan. 1, 2011; Jan. 1, 2011, through Jan. 1, 2012, and Jan. 1, 2012, through Jan. 1, 2013, Robinson, Whicker and Halbert received more than $10,000 in federal funds during the 12-month period, obtained by fraud; without authority converted to the use of a person other than the rightful owner; and intentionally misapplied the money covering the paychecks from the Martin Community Center to Pack, valued at more than $5,000, which was under the care, custody and control of the city, the housing authority and the community center.

The indictment also alleges that from 2006 through Jan. 1, 2013, Halbert, aided and abetted by Robinson, Whicker and Clouse, willfully and knowingly received, concealed and retained stolen property of the SSA, in an amount to which she knew she was not entitled with an approximate value of $72,000, with intent to convert the money to her own use while knowing it had been stolen.

In addition, the indictment alleges that from 2006 to 2013, Halbert, having knowledge of the occurrence of an event affecting her initial and continued right to Social Security payments, concealed and failed to disclose her employment and earned income with intent to fraudulently secure payment in a greater amount than due.

The indictment also alleges that Halbert, aided and abetted by Robinson, Whicker and Clouse, knowingly used, without authority, means of identification of other persons — Pack's name, address, Social Security number and date of birth.

There is also a forfeiture allegation in the indictment that says Robinson, Whicker and Halbert shall forfeit to the United States all property, real and personal, which constitutes or is derived from proceeds traceable to the violations but not limited to a money judgment in a sum equal to the gross proceeds in aggregate obtained by the defendants as the result of the violations.

Under federal law, anyone who receives disability benefits is limited in the amount of money they can receive from another source, and all income must be reported to the SSA so it can properly determine eligibility, a press release for the U.S. Attorney's Office said.

The investigation was conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the SSA and the Attorney General's Office, then presented to the grand jury by Assistant U.S. Attorney Kenneth R. Taylor.

A court date in Pikeville

Federal Court had not been set at the time of the release

Charges of conspiracy and Social Security fraud carry a maximum of five years in prison; misappropriating money from a federal program carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and the aggravated identity theft charge has a mandatory minimum penalty of two years in prison upon conviction.

The former mayor's stepson, James "Stevie" Robinson was arrested Friday for allegedly threatening a witness in the ongoing investigation. He was charged with retaliation against a witness and wanton endangerment.

Editor's note: An indictment is not an indication of guilt but a determination by the grand jury that criminal charges warrant further judicial review.

formance by offering to distribute digital images depicting actual sexual performances by minors with knowledge of the images content and character and that the sexual performance is by a minor.

The indictment said that on June 23, 2009, Meade possessed one or more digital images depicting an actual sexual performance by a minor with knowledge of its content and character and that the sexual performance is by a minor.

A press release issued by the attorney general's office said that Meade's computer, upon examination, revealed more than 100 child pornographic images and videos.

Attorney General Jack Conway's Office of Special Prosecutions handled the case at the request of and in cooperation with the Lawrence County Commonwealth's Attorney.

"I appreciate the hard work of my Cybercrimes Unit, Office of Special Prosecutions and all of the agencies involved in this case," Conway said in a press release issued Monday. "Working together, we are helping make the Internet a safer place for Kentucky kids."

Since its creation in June 2008, the Cybercrimes Unit has launched approximately 300 child pornography investigations and seized more than 400,000 child pornographic images and videos from the Internet and has a 100 percent conviction rate.

to have help promoting the bill."

Paul said there are many other areas where cuts could be made, such as the expense of $1.8 million on rolled-up beef jerky and $325,000 to build a robot squirrel to see if a rattlesnake would attack it.

"I guess they couldn't get any volunteer squirrels to take the job," Paul said. "It was your money, and I'm sure you want to know that it did attack it."

A power plant retiree said he thought the EPA has overstepped its bounds.

"I'm in favor of the environment, but we've had rules of what comes out of the smoke stacks for 50 years,"

Paul said. "It has been decreasing each year."

Paul also spoke about Obamacare.

"I think it will be worse than you imagine," Paul said. "I was a doctor in practice for 20 years, and it's inflated costs and right now, our choices."

Suzie New sat with Paul during the luncheon and spoke with him about the closing of the plant.

"He showed genuine interest in the closure of the power plant," New said. "He is concerned with the environment, but I don't think he wants to shut down the coal industry."

RECLAMATION WORK HONORED

THE DEPARTMENT FOR Natural Resources presented a 2013 Commissioner's Award of Excellence in Reclamation to Mine Rite Coal Company, Inc., for its reclamation work on permit No. 888-0091. This operation is a 74-acre surface contour and auger mining operation located west of Elna at the border of Morgan and Johnson counties. In accordance with the property owner's wishes, the company reclaimed the site to a land use of hay land and pasture that provides for a surface configuration that will facilitate the use of farm equipment. This also provides the property owners with various future development options, as well as increasing the value of the land for future generations. One property owner has already set up bee hives for the production of honey. The site was nominated by Division of Mine Reclamation and Enforcement (DMRE) Prestonsburg Regional Office inspection personnel and selected by the Department because of the company's outstanding reclamation work and its commitment to a healthy environment. The DMRE inspection staff assigned to this site over the years has included William Walter, Jesse Lacy, Sherry Collins, Crystal Byrd, Jeremy Blackburn, Eric Allen, Keith Humble and Greg Weddington.

Letters to the editor

Editor:

On behalf of the American Cancer Society, I would like to thank Paintsville for its generosity and support of the American Cancer Society Making Strides Against Breast Cancer walk. Ninety walkers and volunteers participated, and we raised $1,600 to fight breast cancer and provide hope for all people facing this disease.

Making Strides Against Breast Cancer is a chance to celebrate survivorship. I want to applaud the many survivors that led the way. These women are heroes. They are our mothers, sisters, daughters, wives and friends. They are the reason we continue the fight, and they remind us all of a very important message — finding breast cancer early — when it's most treatable — can save lives.

A special thanks to all the volunteers who worked to make this event a success. We could not have done it without you.

Again, thank you for supporting your American Cancer Society and our mission to create a world with less breast cancer and more birthdays. If you have outstanding pledges or would like to make a donation, it's not too late. Card of Thanks would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our friends and relatives who reached out to us in this very difficult time. All the food brought to the house, flowers sent to the funeral home, and the donations made to the family were deeply appreciated. It was very comforting to know just how much everyone loved him.

The family of

We would like to thank the Louisa Police Department, as well as all the first responders for their quick response, and all the effort made to help him, and for stopping the traffic for the funeral procession. Special thanks to Mack Wilhite, William Leedy, Mike Wilson, and Jimmy Perry for their kindness during that terrible night and the days that followed.

Thank you to Young Funeral Home and Shawn Spears for getting us through the unbearable process of making the final arrangements. Thank you Rev. Noah Robertson for your comforting words and the Mack Ray Cyrus Singers for the beautiful songs. We would like to thank James Bentley, Jeff Waller, George Wheeler, and anyone else that helped in preparing his final resting place. Words cannot express our gratitude for all your hard work. We would also like to thank the pallbearers, Ryan Williams, Josh Greene, Cody Branham, James Wells, Kyle Whitt, John Burchett, Timmy Jackson, and Jobie Moore.

Thank you Ryan Williams for making the beautiful cross and placing it at the accident site. Thank you to all the people at Kentucky Automotive Center in Grayson, Boyd County Ford, and especially Wally Green. It was so comforting listening to all the stories from the people that worked with him. Thanks to the employees of the Louisa Post Office and Louisa Hardware, and Brian Cassady, and the Fallsburg Haunted House for your generosity.

Finally, a very special thanks to Mary Williams and everyone involved in organizing the memorial cruise-in, as well as all the businesses that donated items and all the people who came out on a cold rainy day and made it such a success. The number of people that were involved is so numerous that there is not room to list them all, but we want to thank each and everyone of you for all the hard work that you put into the event. The T-shirts you designed were perfect. Thank you to the Levisa Lazer for advertising the event and for the touching tribute you posted. The family was completely overwhelmed at the outpouring of love demonstrated that day. There is no doubt in our minds that Eric was looking down smiling from ear to ear.

Secret fix every experienced tech knows

by Kim Komando

Kim Komando hosts the nation's largest talk radio show about consumer electronics, computers and the Internet.

"Have you tried rebooting?" I'm sure you've heard this classic tech support question at some point. It's suggested for all kinds of gadgets, from tablets and smartphones to wireless routers and home entertainment systems. It even works for misbehaving computer programs.

It might sound like a cop-out, but there is a good reason why your repairperson suggests rebooting before anything else. To explain why, let me set up a non-techie example. Have you ever been writing a letter and gotten interrupted for just a second? You can pick up where you left off with very little effort.

But what happens if there's a string of interruptions, or a major interruption that takes you away for a few hours or even days? You can't just jump back in to the letter without reading it through from the beginning, or even starting over.

That's similar to how electronics work. A minor glitch usually isn't a problem. It will just slow things down for a minute while the system recovers.

A bunch of glitches or a really serious glitch, however, can completely interrupt the gadget's train of thought. It can't pick up where it left off. Everything might freeze, or you'll get an error like the infamous Windows blue screen of death or the beach ball on your Mac.

At that point, the only thing to do is start over. Rebooting lets the gadget begin from square one. In many cases, the glitches don't pop up again.

That's why tech support folks ask you to restart your gadget first. It's an easy, no-fuss fix that weeds out minor problems without requiring lots of time and money.

Of course, sometimes the glitches are part of a deeper problem that won't go away. If your PC keeps slowing down while you're using it, for example, it might be a misbehaving program draining your CPU and memory.

Restarting can help you pinpoint what program it is. If your computer starts fine but misbehaves after opening a certain program, there's your problem.

At that point, you can re-install the program, see if there's an update from the manufacturer or find an alternative program.

Now, let's say you reboot your computer, but for some reason it doesn't clear the problem. You can try stopping certain programs from running during startup with a program like Autoruns.

Disabling one program at a time can help you narrow down the offending program. Turning off unneeded programs at startup can also make your computer boot faster.

If you can't find a misbehaving program, it might be a driver problem. For that, you need to boot using Safe Mode. It's a powerful troubleshooting tool built in to your computer. It lets you manually correct settings and uninstall programs or drivers that are causing problems.

On most computers, pressing F8 during startup will bring up the boot menu. You can select Safe Mode from the options.

Rebooting a gadget can also help you fix Internet connection problems. A spotty connection could be your router or modem acting up.

BSCTC team wins first-ever title

PAINTSVILLE — A group of students in the respiratory therapy program at Big Sandy Community and Technical College (BSCTC) made history last month when they won the school's first-ever Sputum Bowl championship.

Sputum Bowl is a national respiratory care quiz bowl competition held during each state convention. Winners from each state convene at the National Congress to compete for the national title.

Members of the winning team were Amber Hall, Trevor Robinson, Jordan Witten and Tracy Spence (alternate).

The group of students will participate in national Sputum Bowl at the National Congress on November 16-19 in Anaheim, Calif.

"It's just an awesome feeling," said Hall. "To think that we get to represent our state in a national competition is amazing."

Missy Skeens, who is program coordinator of the respiratory therapy program at BSCTC, said she is "extremely proud" of her students.

"Our students amaze me with their willingness to learn and grow in their desired fields of study," she said. "The national competition will not only enhance their skills but also let them know that they are as good as students from anywhere."

BSCTC had two teams in the state competition. That team, comprised of Brittney Maines, Katlyn Howard and Daniel Thacker, will also be making the trip to California.

For some members of the group, the trip will be their first time on a plane.

"I'm not nervous at all," said Howard. "I am very excited about it."

For more information on BSCTC's respiratory therapy program, contact Skeens at (606) 788-2822 or email melissa.skeens@kctcs.edu.

BIG THANKS

THE NOBLES WITH the Big Sandy Shrine Club along with Hillbilly Clan Outhouse 6 members recently dropped by Cox Auto Parts of Paintsville. Both clubs wanted to thank Steven Cox for all of his and the company's support for the clubs' fundraising events for the 2013 year. The support team from businesses such as Cox Auto Parts are crucial for both clubs to assist the Shriner's Hospitals and the transportation units that take children and their families to Shriner's Hospitals in Cincinnati, Lexington or Louisville in their time of need, officials said. The Big Sandy Shrine Club with help from Pike County Shrine Club and El Hasa Temple have been working diligently to create a hospital transportation unit located in Johnson County, and recently both clubs' hard work paid off. An announcement will soon be made confirming the much-needed transportation unit for the children of Johnson County. If you or your business would be interested in assisting one or both of these clubs for the 2014 year, visit them on Facebook. Pictured are Big Sandy Shrine Club President Justin Lewnadoski, Steven Cox and Jimmy Spradlin, 2013-14 Hillbilly Clan #1 Outhouse #6 Club president.

Tips for a safe Halloween

With Halloween right around the corner, the American Red Cross would like everyone to stay safe when they don their costumes and go out to Trick-or-Treat.

Halloween's greatest hazards aren't vampires and villains, but falls, costume mishaps and traffic accidents, so the Red Cross is offering the following tips to help make this Halloween safe:

- Look for flame-resistant costumes.
- Plan the Trick-or-Treat route and make sure adults know where children are going. A parent or responsible adult should accompany young children as they make their way around the neighborhood.
- Make sure the Trick-or-Treaters have a flashlight. Add reflective tape to costumes and Trick-or-Treat bags. Have everyone wear light-colored clothing in order to be seen.

- Visit only the homes that have a porch light on. Accept treats at the door – never go inside.
- Instead of masks, which can cover the eyes and make it hard to see, consider using face paint.
- Walk only on the sidewalks, not in the street. If no sidewalk is available, walk at the edge of the roadway, facing traffic. Look both ways before crossing the street and cross only at the corner. Don't cut across yards or use alleys. Don't cross between parked cars.
- Be cautious around pets and any other animals.
- If someone is welcoming Trick-or-Treaters at their home, they should make sure the outdoor light is on. Other safety steps include:
 - Sweep leaves from the sidewalks and steps.

- Clear the porch or front yard of any obstacles that a child could trip over.
- Restrain any household pets.
- Use a glow stick instead of a candle in the jack-o-lantern to avoid a fire hazard.

People can download the free American Red Cross First Aid App. Users receive instant access to expert advice for everyday emergencies whenever and wherever they need it. Features of the app include:

- Step-by-step instructions on how to handle the most common first aid situations.
- Videos and animations that make the skills easy to learn.
- Safety and preparedness tips.
- Quizzes that users can take to earn badges which they can share with their friends on social media.

FIX: (Continued from A7)

modem, wait 10 to 30 seconds and then plugging it back in. This will refresh its internal software and its connection to your Internet service provider.

Wondering why you have to wait? Most electronic equipment still has power in it for a little while after it's unplugged.

While there's still power, the glitch you're trying to fix might stick around. Letting the gadget completely drain erases potential problems.

With a computer, smartphone or tablet, waiting isn't usually needed. However, if there is a really persistent problem, shut the gadget down and wait 30 seconds to turn it back on.

In most cases, you should be able get back to fun or work without further problems.

STUDENTS FROM LAWRENCE County High School visited the Morehead State University campus, as part of the Early College Program, Thursday, Oct. 10.

Students participate in early college program

MOREHEAD — Students from Lawrence County High School visited the Morehead State University campus, as part of the Early College Program, Thursday, Oct. 10.

More than 50 high and technical schools offered MSU classes during the fall semester with more than 2,000 high school students participating in the program.

“This program is truly a win-win opportunity. Students get to earn college credit for free or at a much reduced rate, parents have less financial burden for a college education and schools get challenging new courses which fully optimize the talents of their high schools,” said Joel Pace, director of adult and early college programs.

MSU and the partner schools are collaborating to meet a goal of 24 college credits for all high school students before they graduate.

School districts taking part in the Big Sandy region, in addition to Lawrence County, are Johnson, Floyd and Martin counties in addition to Paintsville Independent.

A minimum 3.0 grade point average and an 18 composite ACT score are necessary to be admitted to the program. Students also must meet any specific requirements that are course related.

Students enrolled in courses taught by MSU faculty on the Morehead campus, at one of its regional campuses, or online during the semester will receive a 60 percent scholarship and would be responsible for the remaining tuition for their courses. Students enrolled in courses instructed by approved faculty in their school system will continue to receive a full waiver for the cost of tuition.

Additional information is available by calling Pace at 606-783-2995 or you can find an application at www.moreheadstate.edu/earlycollege/.

Lady Bulldogs repeat as 15th Region champs

BELFRY — Lawrence County repeated as the 15th Region girls' soccer champion Thursday night, toppling familiar foe Prestonsburg 3-0 in the title game at Belfry.

The Lady Bulldogs improved to 19-5 overall and advanced to play 14th Region champion Letcher County Central (12-4) in the semi-state round.

Victoria Dillon, Shelby Hay and Mollie Workman scored one goal each for Lawrence County in the regional championship game.

Hay also had an assist for the Lady Bulldogs.

Defensively, Lawrence County goalkeeper Catherine Clay limited the Prestonsburg girls' soccer team.

In addition to Lawrence County and Letcher County Central, Bowling Green, Marshall County, Oldham County, Elizabethtown, Mercy, Sacred Heart, Madisonville-North Hopkins, Owensboro Catholic, Russell, South Laurel, West Jessamine, Notre Dame, Bishop Brossart and Bates Creek advanced to compete for a spot in the Elite 8 of the Girls' Soccer State Tournament.

Prestonsburg ended its season 18-6.

Prior to shutting out Prestonsburg in the title contest, Lawrence County pulled away to defeat Belfry handily earlier in the tournament. The Lady Bulldogs beat Belfry 7-1 in the opening round of the 15th Region Tournament on Tuesday, Oct. 22.

Prestonsburg edged Pikeville 4-3 in its opening round game that same night.

Bobcats upend Valley, secure home game for opening round

ROBINSON CREEK — Betsy Layne finished runner-up in Class 2A, District 8 Friday night, thanks to a 31-6 victory over host Shelby Valley.

Betsy Layne improved to 8-1 overall and 2-1 in Class 2A, District 8 after posting the win. The Bobcats claimed their fourth straight win.

Shelby Valley dropped to 5-4 overall and 1-2 in the district following the loss. The Wildcats slipped back into the loss column after pulling out a hard-fought win over Leslie County one week earlier.

Senior quarterback Dylan Hamilton led Betsy Layne to the win. Hamilton completed 15 of 26 passes for 275 yards and three touchdowns. The Betsy Layne quarterback only threw one interception against a disciplined Shelby Valley defensive secondary.

Hamilton also rushed for one touchdown.

Blake Spencer led Betsy Layne in receiving. Spencer reeled in five catches for 118 yards and two touchdowns.

Lako Daniels added a scoring reception for Betsy Layne in the district victory.

Houston Hall continued to lead Betsy Layne on the ground. Hall rushed 13 times for 92 yards.

Hall and Zach Bowens led the Betsy Layne defense with 13 tackles apiece.

This week, Betsy Layne will visit Jenkins for a regular-season finale.

Tigers drop district game to Raceland

RACELAND — One week after blanking Nicholas County 53-0 to work its way back into the win column, much-improved Paintsville suffered its second districts loss in three outings.

Host Raceland racked up 446 yards of total offense, defeating Paintsville 32-10 to win the Class A, District 7 championship on Friday.

The tradition-rich Raceland football program captured its first district title since 2008.

Efficient Raceland (7-2) scored at least one touchdown in each quarter.

The Rams scored first, never trailed and eventually rushed for 341 yards on their way to the win.

Kane Snyder and Daylin Beach each rushed for two touchdowns for Raceland in the win.

Standout athlete Connor Messer also found the end-zone for the Rams. Messer returned a punt 71 yards for a Raceland touchdown.

Raceland quarterback Adam Elkins completed 11 of 14 passes for 105 yards and one interception. Elkins has completed 83 of 130 passes for 1,169 yards, 14 touchdowns and five interceptions in nine games.

Raceland didn't need much time to secure an early 13-0 lead.

Snyder delivered a 4-yard rushing touchdown for the Rams with 9:17 remaining in the first quarter. Then, after Paintsville was forced to punt following three downs, Messer returned the Tiger punt 71 yards for a touchdown with 8:41 left in the opening period.

Paintsville (6-3) was limited to 126 yards of total offense in the setback.

The Tigers arrived on the scoreboard when freshman Alex Spencer returned a kickoff 64 yards for a touchdown. Spencer's score came at the 8:30 mark of the first quarter.

Paintsville's only other points came on a Mark Nordin 24-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

Following the loss, Paintsville fell to 1-2 in the district. The setback will force Paintsville to venture out on the road during the opening round of the Class A State Playoffs.

The Tigers will entertain West Carter in a regular-season finale this Friday night. Kickoff for the Paintsville-West Carter football game is set for 7:30 p.m.

Jude rushes for over 100 yards in Eastern Kentucky University win

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. — Four different players scored touchdowns as the Eastern Kentucky University football team cruised to a 31-7 victory over host Southeast Missouri Saturday afternoon at Houck Stadium.

The Colonels (5-3, 3-1 OVC) scored the first 24 points of the game and never looked back on the way to their third straight victory. SEMO (1-7, 1-4) managed just seven points after scoring at least 33 points in each of its previous two games.

Redshirt freshman running back JJ Jude highlighted the offensive effort by reaching the 100-yard plateau for the second time this season. Jude finished with 114 yards on the ground and scored the game's first touchdown, a 28-yard burst up the middle, barely three minutes after kick-off.

The Redhawks had a chance to tie the game late in the first quarter, but junior defensive back Bradley Stanley recovered a fumble at the EKU two-yard line.

Eastern Kentucky then scored on its next three possessions to take control of the game.

Junior kicker Andrew Lloyd made the score 10-0 with a 44-yard field goal. Following a quick three-and-out by Southeast Missouri, the Colonels struck again three minutes later when junior quarterback Jared McClain found senior tight end Ike Ariguzo behind the defense for a 45-yard touchdown strike.

Southeast Missouri's second fumble led to more EKU points. The Colonels lined up for a 42-yard field goal attempt with 3:27 remaining before halftime only to see holder Jordan Berry take the snap and race untouched to the end zone.

That play made the score 24-0 at intermission.

The Redhawks finally scored late in the third quarter only to see Eastern respond with its final scoring drive. EKU ran the ball seven times out of eight plays on that drive until McClain scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak.

Junior safety Chris Owens posted a team-high eight stops as Eastern Kentucky held its third straight opponent to 10 points or less.

The Colonels tallied 10 tackles for loss including two each from senior linebacker Ichiro Vance and redshirt freshman defensive back Kiante Northington.

Eastern Kentucky will return home to face Tennessee State on Saturday, Nov. 2 at Roy Kidd Stadium. Kickoff for the Eastern Kentucky-Tennessee State football game is set for 1 p.m.

UPike drops match to Cumberlands

WILLIAMSBURG — Hitting just .011 for the match, the University of Pikeville volleyball team never got its offense in rhythm at Cumberlands (Ky.) on Saturday, losing 3-0 (25-15, 25-12, 25-9) to the Patriots.

out a team-best 11 assists and Dominique Melvin matched her with 11 digs. Hall, Ray and Chelsea Staples each finished with a block.

Cumberlands won the match with 33 kills for a .271 hitting percentage, but also posted 15 service aces compared to just one for UPike. Sara Hayek led the Patriots with five aces.
